THE WAY OF ST. JAMES

The Road Before Us

For centuries, pilgrims have walked to Santiago de Compostela to pray at the tomb of the Apostle St. James. The Camino is more than a destination. It is a physical journey that creates space for prayer, reflection, silence, perseverance, friendship, and a deeper encounter with God.

A TRUE PILGRIMAGE

This is not simply a sightseeing trip. Some days will be long. Some stretches will be quiet, monotonous, difficult, or tiring. You may walk alone for portions of the day, at your own pace, with time to think, pray, listen, and simply put one foot in front of the other. And that is part of the gift of the Camino.

2027: A Holy Year

2027 is a Compostela Holy Year, also known as a Jacobean or Jubilee Year. It occurs when the Feast of St. James, July 25, falls on a Sunday. During the Holy Year, the Church of Santiago offers special spiritual graces to pilgrims, and the Cathedral's Holy Door is opened.

Pilgrims who fulfill the Church's requirements may receive the associated plenary indulgence by visiting the Cathedral and praying, receiving Holy Communion, and celebrating the Sacrament of Reconciliation within the prescribed period.

The Way is both an outward and inward journey—silence and solitude, hospitality and friendship, challenge and grace.

“Your word is a lamp
for my feet,
a light for my path.”
PSALM 119:105

DISCERNING THE JOURNEY

Is the Camino Right for You?

Pilgrims must:

- Be capable of walking for eight consecutive days.
- Be prepared to walk 10–18 miles per day.
- Be prepared for hills, uneven terrain, changing weather, fatigue, blisters, and minor walking-related discomfort.
- Be 18 years of age or older.
- Have a valid passport meeting Spain's entry requirements.
- Understand that portions of the journey may be quiet, repetitive, physically demanding, or challenging.
- Be comfortable walking independently or in small groups at your own pace.
- Embrace the Camino as a Catholic pilgrimage, not simply a vacation or sightseeing experience.

TRAINING MATTERS

You do not need to be an experienced long-distance hiker, but you do need to train. Walking long distances comfortably on consecutive days will be important to your enjoyment and safety.

To provide encouragement and community throughout the training process, we will offer group walks and hikes at gradually increasing distances. Additional information and a training schedule will be available soon.

What Makes This a Pilgrimage?

Each person will experience the Camino differently. There will be laughter, beautiful scenery, good meals, new friendships, historic churches, and moments when the journey begins to transform us. There will also be tired feet, long stretches of walking, silence, hills, and days when you may wonder how much farther it is. That is part of the Camino.

The physical act of walking can create a rhythm for prayer and reflection that is difficult to find in ordinary life. The road gives us time to slow down, listen, notice, and surrender. When we arrive in Santiago, we arrive not only at a destination, but after having been changed by the journey.

We will share the Camino as a pilgrimage community through prayer, daily Mass, meals, and times for organic conversation, while each pilgrim remains free to walk at his or her own pace and experience the Camino personally.

We walk toward the tomb of Saint James the Apostle,
but every step is an invitation to follow Christ more closely.

Discern not only whether you can walk the Camino, but whether God is inviting you to.
